

Jason J. Port, Special Counsel

jport@gravelshea.com

Jason J. Port joined Gravel & Shea as Special Counsel in 2022 to head the Tax, Trust, Estates, and Probate practices. Prior to this position, Jason held roles providing fiduciary, trust, estate, tax, legal, and risk oversight, planning and management. Such roles included serving both in-house for large trust company divisions at an investment management firm and national bank, as well as an international law firm.

Following law school and working in large law firms as a paralegal, Jason began in private practice at a well-respected law firm in Massachusetts focusing on complex estate, trust, tax, and wealth planning and administration. Jason further assisted clients with tax issues, probate & fiduciary litigation, real estate issues within trust and estate relationships, asset titling and ownership, and the formation, governance, ownership, and operation of pass-through, for-profit, and non-profit entities.
